ABOUT ME

I am a 3rd year student of Information Systems Engineering and in line with my interest in technology, I am improving myself by doing projects on Python, C#, HTML, CSS, SQL and Database Systems. I am also interested in areas such as Network Management, Software Development and Cyber Security, and I provided technical support to students with my experience as a department advisor. I am passionate about learning new technologies, solving problems and producing innovative solutions.

WORK HISTORY

DEPARTMENT REPRESENTATIVE AND ADVISOR

Piri Reis University - Istanbul - 01.07.23-01.09.2023

Working as a department advisor in the Department of Information Systems Engineering, I provided guidance to students about department content, curriculum, and career opportunities. I contributed to the academic and technical development of students by providing technical support on topics such as network management, database systems, software development, and cyber security.
